At Okana, we are committed to shaping the future of construction with cutting edge learning solutions. We're proud to partner with Local London Skills Providers to offer free access to our Building Information Modelling (BIM) According to ISO 19650 eLearning courses.

Course registration is free for all LLSP partners until Summer 2026.

For an informal discussion on how to make this work for learners, contact Andrew at training@okana.global. We're here to help you shape the future of digital construction education.
